Dedicated Support for Educators

Welcome to 2026! We hope you had a great break.

We're excited to introduce a fresh range of products for our education customers, still with exclusive education discounts available through the Mannys Education Team.

We've recently added acoustic drum kits and hardware, as well as brass and wind instruments, to our extensive education product range. Our growth now means we offer Australia's widest selection of brands, models, and solutions for educators.

In 2026, we're rolling out compelling EDU projects designed to make decision-making, ordering, reporting, and accounting more efficient and less time-consuming for music and accounts staff.

With decades of experience from our handpicked team, we're here to share ideas and help specify your requirements, ensuring you make the best, well-informed decisions for your institution.

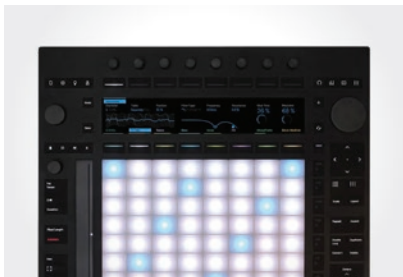

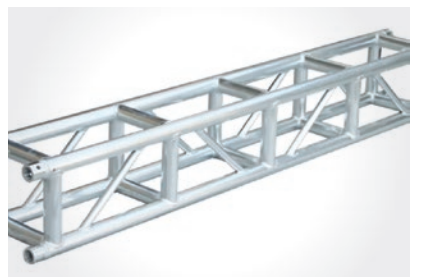

If you already know what you need, simply email us your list (or send a screenshot of your shopping cart), and our team will provide a no-obligation quote showing your education discounts.

It's as easy as that! We look forward to hearing from you.

“ I have been buying equipment from Mannys Education for many years, dealing primarily with Tony Lofts. I know he has excellent knowledge and will always do his best for the customer. Nothing is too big or small.

My background, as a sound engineer at Hamer Hall (The Arts Centre) and as a classical musician, means that I truly appreciate the quality of the gear and knowledge of the staff when needing to purchase professional equipment. I now work for Scotch College in Hawthorn and have been gradually upgrading the equipment in the school to a professional quality.

Mannys Education has shown that they value and care for their customers; this is a highly valued trait, especially with regard to a large and busy school like Scotch. They've always been swift to respond to enquiries and are very knowledgeable about equipment and technical specifications. For example, once, with regards to wireless mic gear, I was reminded that the equipment I ordered was not compatible with what I already had. Thanks Tony for your knowledge and advice. Another time a purchased microphone had a manufacturing fault; it was replaced quickly and without any fuss.

I have always found Mannys Education extremely friendly and excellent with regard to price, advice, service, response times and invoicing flexibility.

I will continue to use Mannys Education to provide the equipment we require for the foreseeable future and I do not hesitate to recommend them to my colleagues.”

Over the past several years, Manny's Music – and in particular Tony Lofts – has provided outstanding support to Nepean CAPA High School and our Music Department.

Tony's knowledge of music equipment and product specifications is exceptional. He consistently offers clear, informed advice that ensures we are purchasing the right equipment for educational settings, budgets, and long-term use. His expertise gives us complete confidence in every decision we make.

We greatly value our long-standing relationship with Manny's Music and highly recommend Tony Lofts and the Manny's Education Team to any school seeking knowledgeable, dependable, and genuinely supportive service.

It has been a delight to correspond with Dyson and the team at Mannys Education throughout 2025. This team goes out of their way to provide high quality customer service, clear communication and timely email responses for quote requests and order updates.

They are a well organised team, a well-oiled machine, and I am looking forward to working together with Mannys Education in 2026.

Jack McFerran

University of Western Australia

Mannys were perfectly professional in every way. They gave us great advice, conducted all the paperwork efficiently and accurately, and delivered the products correctly and safely, with great promptness.

Furthermore, their prices are extremely competitive. I feel very comfortable recommending Mannys to other school Music Departments.

Luke Serrano

De La Salle College

The Mannys Education team has been an absolute standout in every interaction. Their deep knowledge of equipment and product specs makes decision-making easy, and their responsiveness is second to none.

It's genuinely a pleasure working with a team that not only understands the needs of EDU customers but also goes the extra mile to support us – whether it's fast turnaround times, clear invoicing, or thoughtful service.

They make the process seamless, and it's clear they care about building lasting relationships, not just transactions. I must mention that Zac Corrie in Melbourne has been outstanding, and having dealt with Zac over the last few years he makes the whole journey easy.
